| In Vanilla Heretic and HeXen pressing Fly Up without possessing the Wings of Wrath does nothing.  |         |                    |            |
| However, in Dday, pressing it leads to what looks like undefined behaviour: it causes the selected inventory item to cycle left at an extremely fast rate without even opening the inventory. |         |                    |            |
