Description

warning appears in home page (and console). It seems everything else is working, aside from package loading.

History

The "libidtech1converter.so" library was renamed a while back, so it appears you have some obsolete files where you're running Doomsday from?
The issue should disappear if you do a clean install.

Sorry, seems that fragments of an older installation remained in /usr/lib64; uninstalled manually everything, now it's working. Thanks for your reply.
