| The old multiplayer connection UI is accessed via the game's main menu. Additionally/instead, the task bar should provide a way to find MP servers and connect to them. The game menus still need to provide the MP player settings, though. |          |                    |            |
| While connected, the taskbar should have a button with a popup for relevant actions (server/game info, disconnect).  |          |                    |            |

The old multiplayer UI has now been removed.

Multiplayer games can be accessed in Ring Zero's Game Selection menu, or via the DE menu. In both, it is also possible to connect to manually entered addresses. The games' main menu opens the Games dialog in the MP view.
